1. Raw data is taken from multiple institutional sources
2. This data is filtered, classified, and structured in a database
3. Results are obtained through models and patterns
4. The results are shared to be interpreted and assessed